How to Use Your Matrix Element Account

Introduction

This How-To outlines the steps required to install and configure Element as client for the Consulting4Change Matrix server.

Step 1: Download Element Classic for Android or iPhone

On your smartphone, download Element Classic for Android from here or here, and for iPhone from this location. You can also run Element Classic on your desktop, by directing your browser to this link. Don't forget to bookmark it!

Step 2: Select the Appropriate Matrix Server

Open the Element Classic app and select `SIGN IN`.

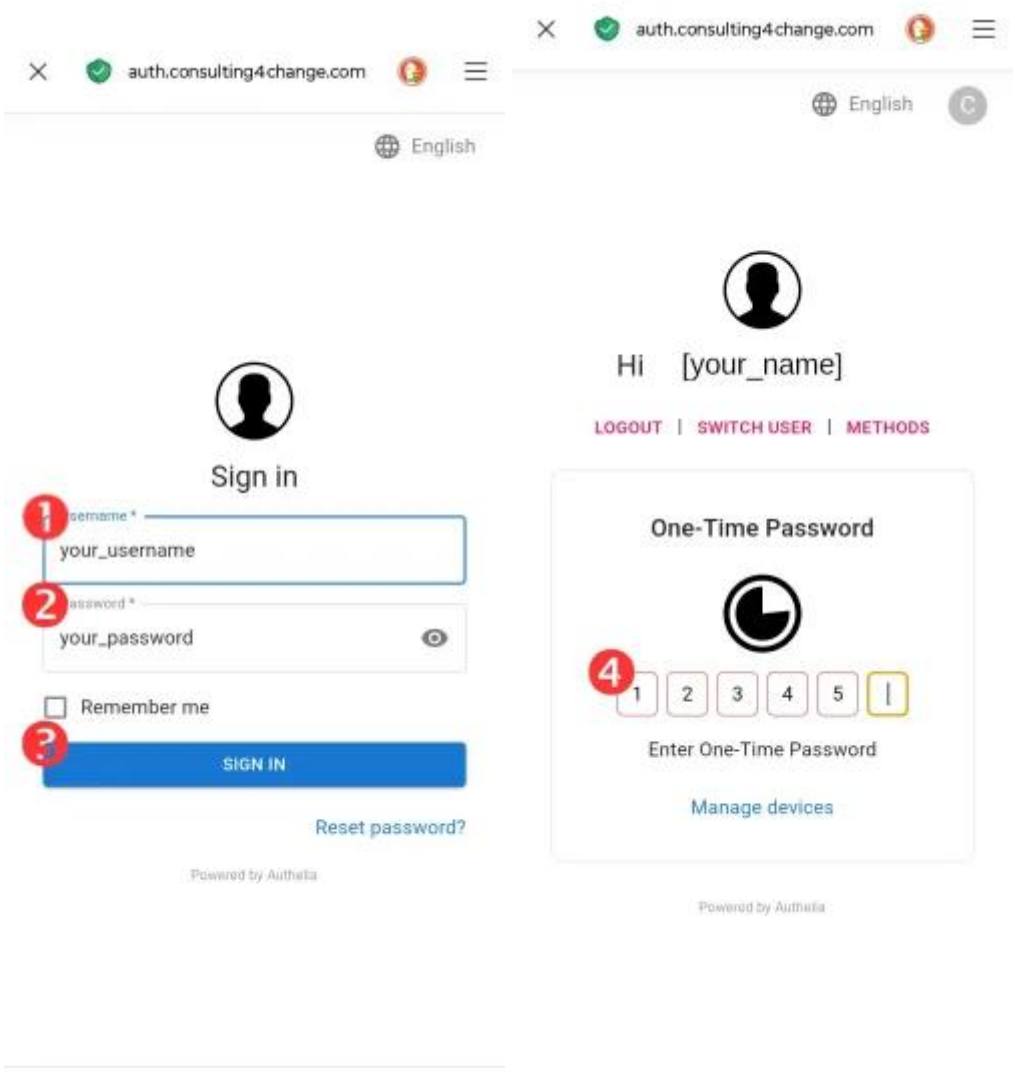

Select the Consulting4Change Matrix server as follows:

Welcome back!
Where your conversations live
matrix.org
EDIT
FORGOT PASSWORD
Continue

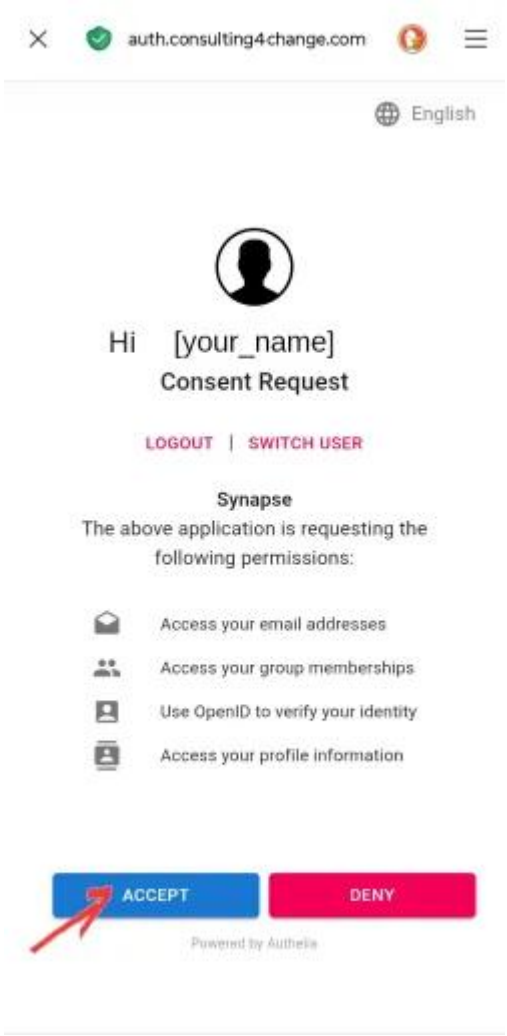

Step 3: Log into Your Consulting4Change Account

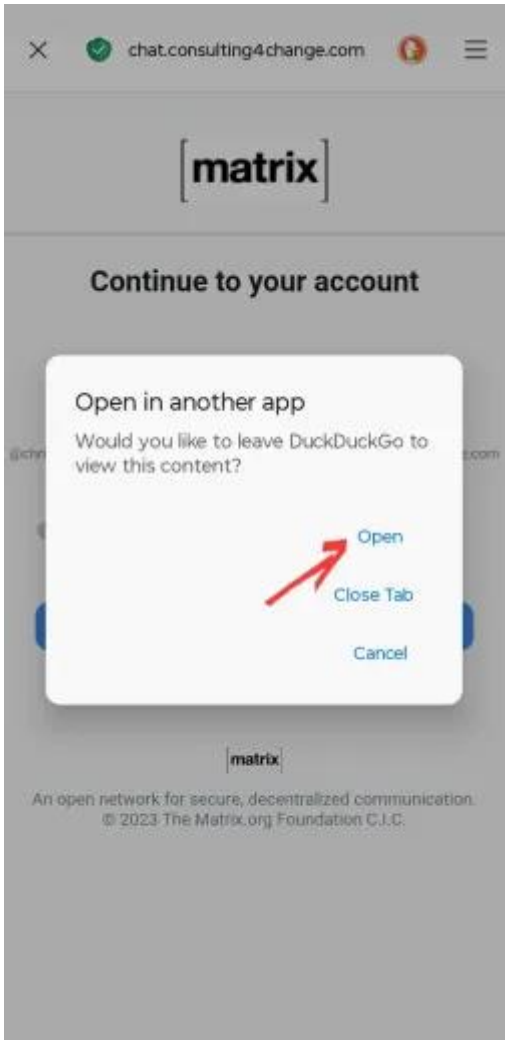

You will be redirected to your OICD login. Enter your known username and password, and get your OTP from your authenticator application:

Step 4: Confirm OICD Login

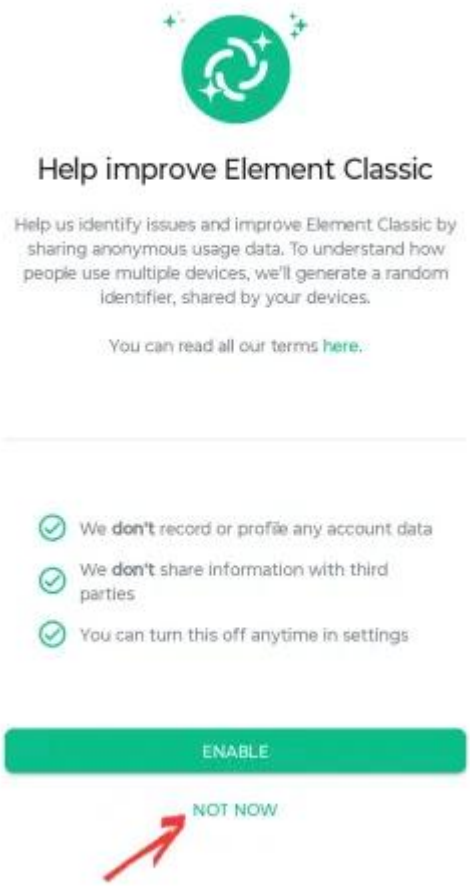

Confirm your successful login and allow it to access your Consulting4Change Matrix Element account:

The above application is requesting the following permissions:
Access your email addresses
Access your group memberships
Use OpenID to verify your identity
Access your profile information

Step 5: Verify Your Device

You will be redirected back to Element Classic. Disallow the submission of anonymous user data, but do allow notifications (essential for calls, for instance) as follows:

Help improve Element Classic
Help us identify issues and improve Element Classic by sharing anonymous usage data. To understand how people use multiple devices, we'll generate a random identifier, shared by your devices.
You can read all our terms here.
We don't record or profile any account data
We don't share information with third parties
You can turn this off anytime in settings

NOT NOW

After successful login, you receive a reminder to verify your newly linked device. This is irrelevant, if you have just opened this Matrix element account anew, but is helpful, if you want to restore chats to a newly registered device from the data held on the Matrix server.

If you have never used Matrix before, proceed as follows:
